3. Code of personal conduct

3.1 Honesty & integrity

All employees shall act with honesty and with the highest standards of personal and professional integrity. They are always required to demonstrate honesty and integrity in their conduct while representing PPAP and while conducting business on behalf of the Company. All employees are also expected to uphold the spirit of teamwork and ensure that the best interest of the team and Company prevail, always. They shall act in good faith, responsibly, with competence and diligence and be truthful about the services provided.

3.2 Respect for human rights

All employees shall adhere to the human rights and dignity of every individual and of the community. They are required to honour commitments, demonstrate respect and trustworthy behaviour in their dealings with other employees, as well as, other stakeholders without any discrimination.

4. Code of conduct towards Employees

4.1 Equal opportunities for employment

The Company works consistently to provide equal opportunities to all and does not discriminate against any person based on their gender, caste, religion, age (within statutory limits), marital status, nationality, ancestry, ethnicity, geographical origin, sexual orientation, disability or any other trait protected by law, with respect to hiring, promotion, transfer, wages /remuneration, compensation & benefits, career development opportunities, etc.

The company shall ensure that the use of temporary, outsourced labor such as public or private security forces is in accordance with applicable local laws and regulations.

It is expected that SMP shall take employment related decisions based on the merit of the person and not discriminate against any person.

4.2 Workplace free of harassment

PPAP recognizes and respects the right of every employee for a harassment free workplace. Hence, employees are expected to ensure a healthy, safe and conducive work environment that is free from harassment of any kind or form.

Towards this, employees are prohibited from indulging in harassment of any kind or form-whether physical, verbal, psychological or sexual in nature. This includes all types of unwelcome, offensive, demeaning and intimidating behaviours, whether explicit or implicit.

The Company sets a standard of 'zero tolerance' for harassment. We are all responsible for ensuring that we avoid actions or behaviour that are, or could be, viewed as harassment.

The Company views all incidents of 'sexual harassment', very seriously and encourages employees to report any incidents of sexual harassment to the Internal Complaints Committee (ICC) formed under Policy of Prevention of Sexual Harassment at the workplace of the Company ("POSH Policy"). The Company may initiate strict disciplinary action against an employee found guilty of any kind of sexual harassment.

For further information, please refer to Policy of Prevention of Sexual Harassment at Workplace of the Company on the Company's website.

4.3 Safe working environment

The safety of people in the workplace is of prime importance to the Company. The Company maintains a comprehensive EHS (Environment, Health and Safety) management system at all its establishments. All forms of substance abuse, as well as, the use or distribution of drugs or alcohol while at work is prohibited. The Company should maintain compliance with local laws to maintain healthy work surroundings and it collaborates with business partners to ensure that they also exercise their responsibility for a safe working environment.

The Company promotes clean and green energy initiatives to ensure a sustainable environment and takes steps necessary to reduce wastages. All employees are required to:

- Stop work on your own or others', if they consider it unsafe.
- Play their part in protecting the environment.
- Be sure that their performance is not impaired, for example by a lack of sleep, alcohol, or any other drugs etc.
- Ensure contractors and others with whom they work with to comply with applicable EHS requirements.
- Report to respective in charge of factories or plant head any accidents, injury, illness, or unsafe condition immediately and take effective countermeasures.

4.4 Prohibition of child and forced labour

PPAP prohibits the employment of child and forced labour at its factories and offices. All employees of the Company are responsible for hiring the staff to ensure that this principle is upheld.

4.5 Open door communication

PPAP believes that the work environment should be free from any kind of bureaucracy and all employees must have access to other employees regardless of their position or influence in the Company. SMP are required to foster an open-door culture at the workplace.

4.6 Freedom of association

PPAP respect our employees right of freedom of association and collective bargaining. PPAP follows all local laws for representation of labour.

4.7 Working Hours

PPAP prohibits employees to work more than the maximum hours as set by local and national laws. Overtime should be carried out only in emergency or unusual situations, restricted as per regulations. Employees should avoid absenteeism without prior approval of the Reporting Manager.

5. Code of conduct towards the Company

5.1 Financial reporting & records

The Company shall prepare and maintain its accounts fairly and accurately. As a listed enterprise, the Company is bound by certain standards of financial reporting and is required to maintain appropriate internal controls and procedures to provide assurance to the Company's Board, shareholders and regulatory authorities that all the transactions are accurate and legitimate.

If an employee has responsibility for or any involvement in financial reporting or accounting, that employee shall have an appropriate understanding and shall act in good faith to adhere to the relevant accounting and financial reporting principles, standards, laws, rules and regulations and the Company's financial and accounting policies, controls and procedures.

There shall be no wilful omissions of any Company's transactions from the books and records. The SMP seek to ensure that the internal controls and procedures in their working areas are in place, understood and followed.

5.2 Solicitation of gifts, advantages and donations

Offering or receiving gifts or being entertained creates an actual or apparent conflict of interest and PPAP does not welcome this kind of activity. PPAP and its employees shall neither receive nor offer or make, any illegal payments, gifts, donations or comparable benefits that are intended or perceived to obtain uncompetitive favours for the conduct of its business.

The giving or receiving of gifts or any other form of benefits can influence the independence of the Company's judgement or judgement of its business partners.

However, cards, thank you notes, certificates, or other written forms of thanks and recognition, foods, beverages, priced meals equivalent to Rs. 1500 or less, that are supplied by customers, partners, and vendors or suppliers in the interest of building positive business relationships may be accepted.

When any employee makes a gift to a customer, a government official or any third party, they should keep the following in mind that:

- It is not done to obtain or retain business or gain an improper advantage in business;
- It is lawful under the laws of the country where the gift is being given and permitted under the policies of the client;
- It constitutes a bona fide promotion or goodwill;
- It is not in the form of cash;
- The gift is of nominal value; and
- The gift is accurately recorded in the Company's books and records.

5.3 Compliances

The Company respects and complies with all applicable local, national and international laws, rules and regulations, wherever it does business. Compliances with the laws is a prerequisite for long-term success of the Company. The employees are expected to acquire appropriate knowledge of local legal and regulatory requirements relating to their roles and responsibilities to enable them to discharge their duties.

It is desirable that Directors and SMP acquire appropriate knowledge of the legal requirements relating to their roles and duties for their compliance. Violations can have severe consequences such as criminal convictions, disciplinary action, fines and reputational damage.

5.4 Protecting the Company's assets

Every employee must ensure proper and appropriate use of the Company assets. The assets shall be employed primarily and judiciously for conducting the business for which they are duly authorized. These include tangible assets such as equipment and machinery, systems, facilities, materials and resources, as well as, intangible assets such as software, proprietary information, intellectual property, relationships with customers and suppliers etc.

5.5 Conflicts of interest

The Company expects loyalty and integrity from all its employees. This means that all employees will act solely in the interest of the Company within the scope of their employment. Personal business interests should not interfere with or obstruct the business interests of the Company. Below are some of such situations that must be avoided:

- An employee of PPAP shall not accept concurrent employment outside the Company, with or without remuneration. This encompasses undertaking any consulting assignment, freelancing, or any position of responsibility. In case an employee intends to undertake any concurrent opportunity outside the Company, prior approval from the Managing Director is required.
- An employee shall not employ a relative in the same department or in a position of financial influence.
- Employees are prohibited from conducting Company's business with any relative, without prior approval from Managing Director. The employees must refrain from developing / maintaining personal associations with stakeholders.
- Any other situation that hampers an employee's ability to take business decisions in the best interest of the Company.

Each employee must fully and frankly inform the Company of any personal or external business interest that may lead to an actual or potential conflict of interest or duty. The Company will take appropriate steps to eliminate or minimize such conflicts of interest at the earliest. All employees shall obtain prior approval of the Managing Director for accepting Directorship of any other company or partnership of a firm.

5.6 Government investigations

The employee shall immediately notify the Company if they receive any notice from any Court, judicial / quasi - judicial authority seeking the information about the Company to enable the Company to take appropriate and timely steps. In the event an employee must give information or reply in respect of such notice or during Government investigation, they shall immediately give a copy of such reply to the Company. The employee shall not discuss about such investigation in public.

6. Code of conduct towards customers & suppliers

6.1 Product stewardship

PPAP recognizes that product integrity, product quality and being safe and environmentally responsible are the founding principles of product stewardship.

Therefore, the Company is committed to ensure that its products and manufacturing processes adhere to prescribed quality standards and that technologies used are safe and environmentally responsible across the product life cycle, including its usage by the intended customers.

6.2 Fair Competition Practices

PPAP competes fairly in all its markets, within the framework of applicable laws. Towards this end, employees must ensure that they adopt fair competition practices in all the dealings. This includes the following:
